Yunia Perez Hernandez, Vice Governor of Holguin province, carried out this February 2nd an exchange with Yolanda Rivas, Uder Secretary of the Political Section of the Canadian Embassy in Havana, Cuba.

Pérez Hernández offered the distinguished visitor an overview of the province, where she highlighted its values, beyond nickel and tourism.

Rivas has known about the province through visits and meetings, for example, at the University of Holguin this January 2nd.

Rivas was interested in the situation of covid-19 and its impact on culture, also on the exploitation of clean energies, tourism and the socioeconomic life of the province.

He also received information from Lupe Isabel Fernández Ramírez (*Icap delegate in Holguín) about the Canadian movement of solidarity with Cuba, especially with Holguín, where the Calixto García brigade stands out.
