

The workers of the Physical Planning Directorate of the municipality of Holguín deepened in the work done last 2021, its successes and deficiencies, as well as the challenges for the present year, reported Juan Carlos Domínguez Taño from Radio Angulo.

During the analysis carried out this February 11, conducted by Xiomara Paz Peña, head of the entity, achievements were highlighted, such as the work that was duplicated with respect to previous stages.

Also, the sacrifice of many workers who fulfilled their duties even in the midst of the pandemic situation, but also concerns of interest to the population.

For example, Reina Pupo Canto highlighted the need to reduce as much as possible the requests for recognition to illegalities that are covered by agreement 8574 of the Council of State, a process that began in 2019 and still does not satisfy the demands.

In the balance it was recognized that it is as important to satisfy the requests of the population in this regard, as it is to carry out the correct confrontation to those illegalities from the beginning in order not to have to reach fines for violations of the law, or other more drastic measures.

Territorial planning is not a whim of the State, affirmed the Director of this entity, it is a question of order so that future generations do not inherit a city with a horrible image, in addition to preserving the local heritage with the values that identify it.

Today the work of Physical Planning is more organic, more scientific, there is more discipline, acknowledged Yoandry Torres Almaguer - director of the entity in the province -, but the dissemination of the Urban and Territorial Regulations must be increased, both among the population and the socio-economic entities, as a way of raising culture and prevention.

He also admitted that there are issues that rely on the slow action of the Physical Planning, and gave as an example the delivery of plots of land that, out of more than 1,700 applications made, only 252 were granted a permit.

Moreover, said the director, the plot ready in Ciudad Jardín remains untouched in the second month of the year.

For his part, Záder Rodríguez - member of the Municipal Bureau of the Party present at the balance, reasoned that the confrontation is important and that there must be a joint action between the police, the DIS inspectors and the Physical Planning.

He also highlighted the need to increase inspections in those places prone to non-compliance with the Law.

The balance of the work of the past 2021 had an emotional closing with the presentation of awards to several colleagues who excelled in their work.
