

Numa's corporate purpose is to meet the food needs of bread and noodles for the basic basket of the population of the Holguín territory, other productions derived from flour and agricultural products, as well as productions destined to snacks for education, health and others; With a traditional technology, a group of capable, enthusiastic and enterprising workers, have endorsed the philosophy of serving the people unconditionally and for this purpose it develops, distributes and markets products according to their characteristics and their standards.